ABOUT PIROVAC:

The first historical mention of Pirovac was in 1298, under the name "Zlosela". At that time, the village belonged to noblemen from Bribir — the Šubić family, and later it became the property of the Šibenik Diocese and noblemen from Šibenik.

This settlement itself was founded in the 15th century by refugees who fled from the Turks. Nevertheless, this area was inhabited many centuries earlier, as shown by remnants of Roman settlements found on the islet of Sveti Stjepan (St. Stephen). Many other historical monuments tell us about the gradual settlement and development of this place. The remnants of a Roman villa in Vinj date back to the 1st AD. The site was proclaimed a cultural good in 2012 and awarded the status of a protected cultural monument.

The defence wall, erected around 1505 by Petar Draganić, has been partly preserved in the village. The 1506 parish church of St. George was restored in Baroque style in the 18th century. The graveyard chapel of the Draganić-Vrančić family features a Gothic sarcophagus with a relief made in 1447 by Andrija Budčić from Šibenik and Lorenzo Pincino from Venice, according to the sketches by Giorgio da Sebenico (George the Dalmatian). Roman artifacts have been found on the islet of Sveti Stjepan in front of the village; here also are the ruins of a Franciscan monastery (from 1511), which was abandoned in 1807. By the mid-17th century, there were 25 houses in the village. The number of inhabitants rose from 273 in 1709 to 1970 in 1931. The first school was opened in 1885. The settlement's name was changed from Zlosela to Pirovac in 1921.

! Important tips for the peaceful vacation!!!

- ⇒ To avoid problems, please do the check-in precise and write down every deficiency at the check form.
- ⇒ The port manuals for the Mediterranean on board may be used for navigation only. Any use of other documents than those specified, results in the liability of the skipper in the case of damage.
- ⇒ The electronic map is a navigation AID and was developed to simplify the use of official maps. It is no replacement for official sea maps and only the official sea maps and messages contain the necessary information for safe navigation. The captain is responsible for correct use.
- ⇒ We advise our customers to fill up the yacht already on the day before last and to also fill up the space can with diesel. Before the yacht is handed over, the tank is filled with the reserve can. This saves the customer a long wait at the petrol stations and allows a smooth and timely check-out.
- ⇒ The water tanks and the reserve can of the outboard motor are not filled.
- ⇒ Give stowaways (rats) no chance! Please put rests of meal and the gangway away.
- ⇒ Think of the next guest! Regrettably, it happens that yachts are left in very dirty and disorderly condition. This means that the final cleaning takes longer as it should. This delays the check-in of the next crew considerably. We therefore ask you kindly to ensure the boats are clean and tidy at hand over. Please dispose of your rubbish in the designated containers in the marina. These measures will facilitate a swift and punctual check in for the following crew. Thank you for your cooperation.
- ⇒ Our boats cannot go under the bridge 'Ždrelac' that connects island Pašman with island Ugljan and is strongly forbidden to pass under it!
- ⇒ Boat must be returned on the check out with full diesel or gasoline tank!!
